

Arcana Match: Card Catalogue

All 78 cards as they ship: names and insights verbatim from the design prototype, colours from the card assets.

Group	Cards	Unlocked by
Major arcana	22	Level 1 (The Fool), then a random major every 4th level
Wands	14	Random Wands card on Wands levels (1, 5, 9 ...)
Cups	14	Random Cups card on Cups levels (2, 6, 10 ...)
Swords	14	Random Swords card on Swords levels (3, 7, 11 ...)
Pentacles	14	Only through the fallback: every Pentacles level (4, 8, 12 ...) is also a major level (see note)
Total	78	78 wins complete the deck with no duplicates

Card kind	Cards	Art
Major	22	Unique emblem per card (22 new SVG emblems)
Ace	4	Suit emblem with rays
Pip (2-10)	36	Suit pips arranged by number
Court (Page, Knight, Queen, King)	16	Court emblem plus suit sign (4 new emblems)

Pacing	Value	How
Levels to unlock every major	84	The Fool at level 1, then one every 4th level
Suit cards unlocked by level 40	29	Levels that are not level 1 or a multiple of 4
Daily draw opens at	3 cards	After level 3
Pentacles levels among 1-40 that give a Pentacles card	0	$\text{Pentacles level} = (n - 1) \bmod 4 = 3$, which always means $n \bmod 4 = 0$

Design: majors act as chapter markers every 4th level; the other levels give a card of the suit the player just collected on the board. Rewards are random within each pool, so every player's deck grows differently.

Issue found while building this catalogue: the suit rotation (4 suits) lines up with the major cadence (every 4th level), so every Pentacles level gives a major instead and Pentacles cards only arrive through the fallback, late in the deck. The deck still completes in 78 wins. Proposed fix: majors every 5th level (22 majors by level 106) or on the level after each two-goal spike, so all four suits get their own card levels. To verify with CardUnlockRules tests before shipping.

The 78 cards

Sky hue tints each card's night-sky window; accent colours the emblem and title (swatch shown).
